Brendan G. Rose can i have a letuce cup with that? you do need a weat herman to know which wa the wind blows. its alright ma i can mak it. Carpe diem. FOREVER BOYS!

And the ART Goes On..... Brendan Rose Nottingham Alumnus, Class of 1993

During his Nottingham High School years Brendan Rose often displayed his creative think-outside-of-the-box personality traits. He enjoyed drawing faces, portraits and assorted doodles and participated in 2D an 3D art classes. Advanced art classes at Levy Middle School and Mrs. Archer's art classes at Edward Smith Elementary school were earlier influ-

Archer's art classes at Edward Smith Elementary school were earlier influences on his talent. His NHS senior yearbook picture comment includes "carpe diem" and "can i have a letuce (lettuce?) cup with that?" (The reference is so far unexplained.)

Brendan earned an architecture degree from SUNY at Buffalo and then worked for a large architectural firm in Seattle for four years. He moved back to Syracuse and helped build a traditional rustic home (in Fenner, NY) for his father and stepmother, using stone and timber from the property. He enrolled in graduate school and earned a master's degree in architecture from Syracuse University. Architecture combines knowledge in science and math. Brendan decided he needed to find a way to balance the defined rules of architecture with his more creative side.

The first year after grad school Brendan began to explore the community here and started to design and build public art projects. He works mainly in metals and wood. Brendan submitted a proposal for a sculpture to be installed by City Hall Commons and it was accepted. The summer project resulted in "The Hand". He says that was the first time people referred to him as an artist. He also produced the "Art Shark" installation at Lipe Art Park on West Fayette Street, across from the Rockwell Building. This canopy and wall was part of his thesis work. A grant for these installations covered the cost of materials.

In 2011 Brendan was appointed a Syracuse Public Artist-in-Residence (SPAR). He was approached by neighborhood development partners and got funding for public art in the city, along the Connective Corridor. His studio was in the State Tower Building. In this year-long position he created three

TRIBUTE to GERALD GRANT

Gerald Grant, (1938-2017)who passed away in September of 2017, wrote a detailed, insightful book based on Nottingham High School: The World We Created at Hamilton High, published in 1990. He used a pseudonym for the school and changed the names of teachers interviewed, but Mr. Grant spent years researching and studying Nottingham to learn what changes had taken place in American secondary education from the 1950s through the 1980s. Grant placed the policy debates and history of those years under his microscope and offered special insights into the forces that shaped our public high schools through the years of integration, student uprisings, and declining results. If you were a student there during those years especially the '80s - you will feel a familiarity with his depiction of the school and even recognize some of the teachers whose opinions he elicited.

From his obituary in the Post-Standard: A sociologist, philosopher, writer and educator, Gerald Grant's life work was the building of schools and communities of equality, inclusion and justice. He earned his doctorate at Harvard in the Sociology of Education. He joined the faculty of Syracuse University in 1972, holding joint appointments in the departments of Sociology and Cultural Foundations of Education. He was named Hannah Hammond Professor of Education in 1993 and Distinguished University Professor in 1998. He published numerous articles and five major books on educational reform, including The World We Created at Hamilton High.

public art installations, including the blue steel "Walt, the Loch West Monster" (at West Fayette and Walton Streets).

During the summer of 2013 he was an artist-in-residence at Stone Quarry Hill Art Park. Brendan was also interviewed and featured in an article by Melinda Johnson (The PostStandard) with photos of him and some of his art installations around the city and local areas. In 2015 he and his art were featured in the Central New York Magazine, in an article by Katherine Rushworth.

He is now approaching his art as a business and works with partners Damien Vallelonga and Zach Bloomer (both Nottingham alums) on projects in his art and design collective, "Echo". His office is located above Picasso's Pastries on Westcott Street. He does do some personal or small-scale art as a professional and juggles some architectural projects. Brendan practices his drawing and does a lot of on-site drawing, some faces/portraits, doodles, etc. He also makes some furniture or small sculptures for family. He has painted some murals; for example, an abstract on Lock Alley at Biscotti's Bakery on North Salina Street and one behind Beer Belly Deli (Westcott St) entitled "Daedalus". He's also done some pop-up art projects. He has partnered with his sister, Vanessa, on Salt City Craft Market projects.

Brendan Rose produces public art that communicates and expresses functionality and connections, and invests history. One example is his creation of the purple Westcott Street signs and sign plans for the south side and near west side. He has submitted proposals to New York State for Erie Canal markers which would mark the gap in the canal where it ends in Dewitt and picks up in Camillus. He also submitted proposals for public art pieces where the canal ends now. In the future he plans to work on Home Headquarters (Syracuse) development projects. Brendan has lived and worked in Syracuse for eleven years and, in July 2016, he married his wife, Tiferet. They first met on the corner of Westcott St. and Euclid Ave. when he was an SU graduate student. They recently relocated to Providence, Rhode Island for professional opportunities and involvement in the urban Jewish community there. He will continue his art and business here, as well as visits with family. We wish Brendan and Tiferet well and look forward to more of Brendan's additions to our community!

SPOTLIGHT: JAMES A. JACOBS, NOVELIST, '59 ALUM

Mr. Jacobs, a 1959 Nottingham graduate, has written two very engaging novels. The first, Transgressions, is a story set in and around Syracuse and the Onondaga Nation. It has quite a bit of autobiographical content and many references to familiar places (some current, some past) around Syracuse and Central New York. It is the comingof age story of Daniel Mendoza, whose father is a Jewish boxer and whose mother is Iroquois. The second book, Days of the Dead, continues Daniel's story as an adult. As a journalist, he travels to Mexico in 1968 and becomes involved in the unrest and violence preceding the Olympic games that year in Mexico City. James is currently working on a third sequel, No Reprieve, also set in Mexico, to be published in early 2018.

While at Nottingham, James played end on three city championship football teams ('56,'57,'58) and was named Herald-American All City in his senior year. He played both football and lacrosse in college and also earned a Black belt in Kuk Sool, the royal Court Korean martial art. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps. James earned three degrees from Syracuse University: B.A. in English, M.A. in Newspaper Journalism, and M.S.S. in Interdisciplinary Social Science. He taught English at both OCC and SU. and holds a lifetime California Community College Teaching Credential in Anthropology, Social Science and Communications. He has written numerous articles for newspapers and magazines and worked as a newspaper reporter for the Rochester N.Y. Times-Union. He co-founded SALT, a city news magazine in Syracuse and was editor of the Glenville Democrat in Glenville, West Virginia.

In 1976 James began teaching at Diablo Valley College in the San Francisco Bay Area. He is now professor emeritus there. He served as chairman of the Journalism department for ten years and taught English, specializing in American Literature, Developmental Composition and Critical Thinking. He has been nominated five times to Who's Who Among America's Teachers. He and his wife, Susan, currently live in the San Francisco Bay Area. More information can be found on his website, www.jamesajacobs.com.

SPOTLIGHT on ALUM: CHUCK HARRIS

Chuck Harris, a 1959 graduate of Nottingham High School, was in town on July 16, 2017 to speak about his just-published first novel, Mr. Chen's Sweet and Sour. It is the remarkable fact-based story of two brothers who grew up in Syracuse but moved to New York City during the jazz age to pursue music careers. Much of the story is based on a manuscript Chuck's late father, Morey, had written about the life and career of his younger brother, Charley, who was a banjo player and song writer. The document's existence was unknown to the family and was only discovered after the death of Chuck's mother. In writing the story Chuck had to invent some characters and events to flesh out the missing details and make the narrative come to life. There are many references to real people and places in Syracuse as well as actual events in Manhattan, making for an exciting glimpse into life during the 1920's and especially into the music scene at that time in New York City. The title refers to a Chinese restaurant in NYC which was a favorite spot for the brothers and their friends and family to meet for all kinds of occasions, both happy and sad.

Chuck earned his Ph.D. from Duke University and is a retired sociologist. He is married to the former Sandy Bronstein, also a Nottingham graduate (1960). Sandy has a Masters in English from S.U. She retired from teaching English as a Second Language to high schoolers a few years back, and Chuck says she was an invaluable help to him while he was working on his book. He is currently working on his second novel, a mystery set in Harlem in the 1930's.

Chuck and Sandy live in Arlington, Virginia. They have two children and five grandchildren.

Interview with Gwen Raeford Forensic Science Teacher

by Margaret (Peg) Lanzendorf Kramer ('68)

Growing up on her grandfather's farm in Baldwinsville New York, Gwen Raeford learned about raising animals, growing crops, the environment and responsibility. Her grandparents were sharecroppers (picking cotton, etc.) who had owned a farm in Alabama. They moved up north to this area after being targeted by racists. Gwen's grandmother had spoken up for education and voting rights for non-whites. Their son, Earl, graduated from high school in Baldwinsville (1956 President of the Student Body; voted most athletic) and became a Major in the military. Gwen's grandparents wanted educational opportunity for their family. Gwen knew since age nine that she wanted to teach.

Gwen has taught Forensic Science and SUPA Forensic Science (Syracuse University 4-credit course) at Nottingham since 2012. She also teaches Living Environment and Environmental Science in the Twilight Program (after school). Before Nottingham, Gwen taught her first 15 years at G.W. Fowler High School on Syracuse's west side. The Syracuse City School District (SCSD) Educational Foundation awarded her Teacher of the Year in 2014. While at NHS she has been co-advisor for the class of 2016, co-advisor of the 2016 yearbook, and a member of F.A.C.E.S. Board of Directors, serving as the Vice-President for the past two years.

Mrs. Raeford has a B.A. degree in Psychology from Syracuse University, a Masters in Science Education from LeMoyne College and permanent certification in Biology and General Science. During her 21 years with the SCSD she has taught Regents courses in Living Environment and Earth Science and numerous other science electives. She has been involved with extra-curricular activities within the Science Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) fields. For the past 20 years she has been dedicated to the National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE). At Fowler High School she was a co-pioneer of their NSBE Jr. Chapter which started with 7 members. Since then it has grown to more than 135 members and represents all 5 high schools and 10 middle schools in the school district. She also contributes to a one week summer camp at Syracuse University for more than 40 students to explore science, engineering and math concepts. In her spare time she tutors students in biology, volunteers with her church's youth choir and on her church's board of trustees and is an active member of Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority, Inc.

Gwen appreciates the diversity of students and staff she has worked with at Fowler and Nottingham. She felt comfortable moving to Nottingham in 2012 since she already knew many teachers and administrators here. She is proud of the fact that her son graduated from Nottingham and has a career in education. Gwen and William Franklin Raeford have three children (Charles, Courtney and Carleigh), nine grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

(P.S. Gwen is hoping her science classroom will receive some much needed upgrading in the near future!)

SPOTLIIGHT on ALUM: Sehl Burns

These two brothers, along with Sehl's dog Baxter, delight the folks at Menorah Park, a senior living community in Syracuse. They make regular visits, during which the residents and staff all welcome Baxter with hugs and belly rubs. Baxter is a Brittany Doodle - a cross between a Brittany Spaniel and a poodle. He's handsome, well behaved and very friendly.

Sehl graduated from NHS, class of '62. Chris attended NHS and later graduated from JD, which we don't hold against him. Chris first started visiting Menorah Park with his own golden retriever, Tinsley. After Tinsley died, Sehl and Chris started bringing Baxter along on their walks and visits.

The Burns family has had Baxter for over ten years, but he became a certified Emotional Support Animal in 2017 when Sehl was diagnosed with frontal lobe dementia. ESAs provide therapeutic support for their owners, who may suffer from anxiety or depression, and are allowed to accompany their owners to places that would not normally allow animals. For instance, Sehl takes Baxter to the grocery store and to S.U. football games at the Carrier Dome, where he is just as popular as he is at Menorah Park.

Sehl gets panic attacks, but his wife Linda says Baxter's presence helps him calm down. "A dog can relieve stress", says Linda. "It lowers your blood pressure. When you're petting the dog, everything else goes away. It just brings joy. People forget about their troubles for a moment."

Baxter wears a red vest to indicate his status as an emotional support dog and Sehl wears an ID lanyard to match. Says Sehl, "He's just a wonderful guy who likes to be with me."

Alumni Spotlight: Family Edition

Nancy C. Andrews ('76) Career: I currently serve as Dean of the School of Medicine and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs at Duke University. Advice: Don't be afraid to aim high in what you decide to do with your life. Don't impose limits on yourself, and be skeptical when others try to . Be willing to feel uncomfortable for a bit as you try new things.

David Andrews ('78) Career: I am currently Professor and Chair of the Economics Department at SUNY Oswego. Advice: The most valuable thing I learned in school was to do research and to think for myself. Education isn't about memorizing answers. It's about challenging the answers you're given and then challenging the questions. The internet is a great resource but it has so much misleading information that sometimes is hard to sort out. Ultimately, you're the only one you can rely on to figure things out, so make sure you're in a position to do that.

Hon. Ross P Andrews ('81) Career: I am a Syracuse City Court Judge. I was a union and civil rights lawyer for 22 years before being elected judge. Advice: The most valuable thing I learned in school was a lesson that I also learned at home: every member of a community has a contribution to make and should make it.

Bruce Andrews ('86) Career: I recently left being the Deputy Secretary of the U.S. Department of Commerce in the Obama Administration. Advice: Don't accept the limitations that you put on yourself or that others try to put on you. Someone may tell you that you can't do something or you may think that you would never be able to do it, but you can--- through hard work, focus, tenacity, resilience, and sometimes a little good luck. If someone had told me as a senior in high school that one day I would be sitting in the White House Situation Room at National Security Council meetings giving my opinion to the President of the United States, I would have thought they were crazy. But I got that opportunity because I never stopped working hard and trying to reach for the next opportunity in life.

NEVER SAY YOU CAN'T......

THE PRINCIPAL WONDERS.....

I got a visit the other day from a friend who was doing a little spring-cleaning. She brought me a picture of a Nottingham sorority from 1965. The girls were wearing black with a strand of pearls; they were quite elegant. I could not help but wonder what became of them all. They were at the beginning of their adult life in a world that was going to rapidly change. The question I had to ask myself was if Nottingham properly prepared them for the life they had in front of them. I ask myself that question every year as we prepare to graduate another cohort of students. Are they ready?

The girls in the picture had certain expectations of what was ahead of them. Most would go to college. They would likely meet a man in college, settle down and start a family. They may, or may not, work outside the home. They rode the wave of expectations and the struggles to meet them in a world where they may be wearing the last strand of pearls. Nottingham was going to change and the world was going to change with it. By the time that my sisters arrived at Nottingham in the late 60's the school would be almost unrecognizable to the girls in the sorority picture.

In prior correspondence, I have already given you the bulk of the statistics from Nottingham. The graduation rate is up approximately 25% in the 6 years that I have been principal. (Still too low, much more work to do.) However, I have begun to look at the school, and how we serve the students, differently. While the graduation rate is important, it has kept us out of hot water with the state education system, the same question emerges: are the students prepared for the world that awaits them as they leave the halls of Nottingham?

In many respects, the question is unanswerable. We do not know what the world will look like as we send our students out into it. The most we can do is prepare them for the known. We are doing more reading, writing and presenting at Nottingham than I have seen at any time in my 30-year professional career. We know how students learn and we know what they have learned, or not learned, more quickly and are able to tailor our instruction to meet students' needs. In a world that is changing at an incredibly rapid pace I know these skills are going to be important as students work their way into the workforce. Nevertheless, just as the girls in the sorority picture, as I graduate this year's class, I wonder..........

FACES of Nottingham

Families, Alumni, Community, Educators, and Students

FACES of Nottingham is the Nottingham High School's vision of a traditional PTO. It operates as a non-profit organization that includes families, alumni, community, educators and students, and its primary purpose is to support the education of our students.

We continue to be deeply grateful to all Nottingham alumni, who continue to donate generously to support what happens in our building and beyond. Nottingham Connection Grants funded 17 different requests that ranged from classroom materials to 14 wireless microphone belts and beltpacs for transmitters for the spring musical, "Once On This Island." Sadly, many of these expenses are not covered by the Syracuse City School District, and you make it possible for our students to have what they need to succeed.

As you may know, Nottingham High School is currently on the Syracuse City School District's Joint Schools Construction Board (JSCB) renovation list but with the recent mayoral election, there have been some delays. We have now been assigned a new architect, and we hope to be back on track soon.

FACES' Fundraising Committee is planning a major Capital Campaign to fundraise for Nottingham School renovations that will not be covered by the City of Syracuse. Some of the needs that we have identified are: install air conditioning; upgrade drinking water system so all water fountains can be utilized; remove asbestos where needed; renovate bathrooms, including water fixtures that stay on; add walls where partitions currently exist in classrooms; complete science rooms upgrades; upgrade lockers and locker rooms; create storage spaces for teachers; create meeting spaces for staff, teachers and students; renovate and upgrade gymnasium and weight room; upgrade classroom furniture; upgrade cafeteria; upgrade auditorium; create additional Smart classrooms; redesign front of school to meet safety standards.

The Capital Campaign will take at least 2-3 years of planning and implementation, and FACES invites each one of you to participate and help us in the planning and execution. We want to raise funds from alumni, community and corporations to help us achieve our goals. There will also be opportunities to give naming gifts, i.e. a classroom or lab could be named after you.

FACES meetings now take place on the first Thursday every other month at 6:30 pm in the Nottingham Cafeteria, and all are welcome to attend. You can find out more about us on our website: http://www.nottinghamptso.org where information about school activities, events and academic supports are frequently updated. You can also find us on Facebook as William Nottingham High School.

PANELS STILL MISSING on the Nottingham Quilt

As mentioned before, Judy Gray, one of the founders of The Nottingham Connection in the early 90's and much loved NHS librarian for many years, was also the inspiration for the creation of the Nottingham Quilt. The quilt was established in the late 90's.

We also advised that she made the quilt herself which allows for the individual squares representing each year of graduation to be sewn to it as each year's panel becomes available from its class members or others. The quilt was originally made to accommodate a total of 80 squares, which would cover the years 1926 thru 2005. Plans are now in the works to expand the size of the quilt by adding room for twenty (20) more squares which will give us a 100 panel quilt to celebrate William Nottingham High School's first 100 years. It's getting close, alums!

The current Nottingham Quilt has one half of the 80 panels filled with an array of inspirational designs each depicting their individual class year. We're listing those classes still missing a panel and if you are interested in providing a panel for your class, please contact Peg Kramer at 315-635-6110, or you can contact The Connection: nottalum@hotmail.com.

The missing classes are: 1934, 35, 37, 40, 42, 43, 47, 48, 49, 51, 52, 60, 69, 72, 74, 77, 79, 82, 84, 85, 87, 88, 89, 90, 92, 94, 96, 97, 98, 99, 2002, 03, 04, 05 and 06-18.

An individual quilt panel should be $8" \times 8"$ (total visible design) - a 1" border all around equals a total panel size of $10" \times 10"$. The panel must have the graduation year. Any appropriate designs, techniques, materials, etc., are encouraged.

NOTTINGHAM QUILT GAINS A PANEL

Marlene (Weinstein) Konsens and Martha (Williams) Thompson designed and created a panel for the class of 1966. It depicts and honors Mrs. Elizabeth Ciciarelli, a beloved history teacher who died during their senior year at Nottingham. An entire page of that class's yearbook was devoted to her memory.

DESIGNATION OF CLASS GIFTS

Karen Uplinger ('66) reports that the Class of 1966 has presented a check for $3,553 to F.A.C.E.S., the parent, teacher and student organization for Nottingham, to be used for a new mixing board and audio for the sound studio of the TV room at the high school. It is their hope that this gift will encourage current students to be creative and innovative for the society of the future. A plaque will be placed in the studio to reflect this contribution.

Elaine Lyon ('57) reports that the Class of 1957 has donated $470 to The Nottingham Connection for their use in making teacher project grants or for printing and publishing costs.

REMINDER: So that we can keep current, please return last page with updated email address and if you wish Check the box in order to receive your "Connection" via email. THX

FROM THE MAILBAG

Jodi Burnash (Special Ed/English teacher) writes: Thank you for approving my grant proposal. I look forward to getting these books and sharing them with other teachers.

Maureen Kendrick (Librarian) writes: I am writing to thank you for the most gracious grant the Nottingham Library recently received. The event was a success! Staff turned out to learn about a program called BreakOut Edu, take a Challenge and enjoy pastries from Picasso's Pastry. Teacher comments from the event: "A lovely tea party this morning. Wonderful treats and fun activities. Bravo!" - Katie Gang; "Thank you so much for the really cool activity as well as the very yummy treats!" - Christina Ferlenda. Thank you for all your support.

Jaime Hoey Rodriguez (Science teacher) writes: Thank you so very much for your generous grant to fund fishing equipment for my students. I hope to spark a love of nature and the outdoors in as many students as possible because they are our future and it will be their very important job to help conserve and protect our earth. Thank you once again! I can't wait to use the equipment with the students.

Richard H. Roomian ('54) writes: It was generally understood that one could cut across the school grass when covered with snow, but I guess I pushed the envelope during the January thaw of 1953 as there was green showing under the thin blanket of white. Principal Pat Kane's office window quickly opened and he ordered me to return immediately and come into the office. Not wanting to hear his wrath, I entered the east door, reversed my jacket and took off my cap and walked calmly out the west door. Unbeknownst to me, a pal of mine happened to be in the office at the time and told me of my slick move, which he did not divulge to the principal, but did smile all the way home. [Editor's note: If you are picturing this, it would have been at the "old" Nottingham on Fellows Ave.]

Dana Lyons writes: Dear Bulldogs, Just a moment of serious pride and recognition for one of our own. Dr. Kira Smith is continuing her work with Doctors Without Borders and, of all amazing specialties, Kira is an OB/GYN. Check out her post and her accounts of her missions on Facebook. She deserves some support and love from home every now and then certainly some kudos for humanitarian efforts in practice. Just one last boast....let me not forget, Dr. Smith is a product of Yale. Yes!!! You go, Kira Smith...I am just one of many people that are so proud of you, your pursuit of education AND knowledge, your accomplishments and your continued commitment to making this world a better place for all, especially women and children.

Carol J. Clise ('47) writes: Re: "Archival Information" in last year's newsletter: In the listing for the class of 1935, William E. Allis is listed in the June graduates. I lived in Auburn when I became friends with Nancy E. Allis, 859 Maryland Avenue, Syracuse. She was the administrator of the Onondaga County Chapter of the American Red Cross blood program. I was a volunteer in the Cayuga County Red Cross chapter, and I became active in the Syracuse Chapter also. Nan was born 9/21/15, died 4/28/03. She was living in Bradenton, Florida at that time. She grew up in the Maryland Ave house and lived there until moving to Florida. Her mother worked at Syracuse University and was very well known. Her obituary lists survivors as Douglas E. Allis. I think he lived in Skaneateles until moving to Florida. Also, Betty M. Allis, Skaneateles. I believe I heard Nan and her mentioning their brother Bill. Hope this information proves helpful to you in your search for that class.

MAKE REUNION PLANNING EASIER

Members of The Nottingham Connection Editorial Board can help you with some of the items on your reunion planning list.

- For instance, if you want to have a tour of the school, you will need to set a time and obtain a permit. We can facilitate that for you if you let us know in plenty of time.
- •Also, if your class is considering making a gift to the school, we can make suggestions and help you decide what would fit your budget and be most beneficial to Nottingham.
- •If you want to be the contact person for your class don't call Ghostbusters but Please feel free to contact us at: NOTTALUM@HOTMAIL.COM

SUNDAY MORNING September 23, 2018 Hi all ...

The reunion committee has not planned an official event for Sunday morning. We encourage you to make your own arrangements if you would like to meet up with friends for breakfast or brunch. Please be sure to check out the "Things to Do & Places to See" page on our website for local dining and sight-seeing suggestions. If you are heading back home today, we wish you safe travels! Get directions, lodging info, and much more on our reunion website:

The class of 1967's 50th reunion was held September 15, 16 and 17, 2017. Ninety-five classmates and 35 guests attended the events. Friday night we dined at The Dinosaur BBQ. Saturday night's event was at the Bellevue Country Club. We had an hors d'oeuvres cocktail hour outside on the patio with a plated dinner in the Green Room. Sunday, we had a fabulous brunch at Golda Zimmerman's house with more people than expected because everyone had such a great time the two nights before. Thank you, Golda, for putting on the brunch! And thanks to all the members of the reunion committee: Joan Ross Vinal, Golda Zimmerman, Jo Meltzer Brown, Larry Higbee, Nick Malagisi, Shelly Varsano Schwartz, Iris Alpern Maxon, Dora Torres, Bibi Brumberger Stein, Bruce Poushter, Frank Mamat and Phil Riposo. Â Special thanks to Jay Slotnick and Lew Radin.

Jan. 6 Abrahim Kenneh, Nottingham sophomore, member of the wrestling, football and baseball teams, is honored as Scholar Athlete of the Week. He achieved honor roll this marking period with a 90 grade point average and continues to challenge himself on the field, on the mat and in the classroom. After graduation he'd like to attend Notre Dame University and study engineering.

Jan. 12 Former Nottingham football player Derrick Gore ('13) announces he'll transfer from Alabama; he has not yet indicated where he will go. Gore, who played for Nick Patterson at Nottingham, was an All-Central New York selection in 2012, attended Milford Academy in the fall of 2013 and the following year played at Coffeyville (Kansas) Community College before winning a spot on the University of Alabama roster. He has been a red shirt sophomore for the Crimson Tide who saw action mostly on special teams the past two seasons.

Jan. 17 This week's Nottingham Student Scholar Athlete is Davon Howard, a member of the football, basketball and track teams. A Zebra Classic Scholarship winner, he hopes to attend North Carolina Agricultural and Technology University after graduation.

Jan. 18 From Nottingham Technology teacher Brian English: During the weekend of January 14-15, Nottingham's VEX Robotics teams competed in two competitions: Fulton, NY and Tioga, NY. During the Fulton competition our 5937A team made it all the way to the final round and lost in the final match. During the competition with Tioga, our team took a clean sweep of the awards. Teams C and A paired up to win the competition while competing against our own B team. The B team came away with the top award (the Excellence Award) at this event. All three teams are now qualified for the New York State Championship on February 18th.

- Jan. 20 Derrick Gore (see Jan.12 article), University of Alabama running back, has announced that he's transferring to the University of Louisiana-Monroe. As mentioned before, he was a walk-on with the Crimson Tide and played two seasons.
- Jan. 21 Nottingham is participating in a fundraiser sponsored by General Mills: "Box Tops for Education Return to School Sweepstakes" (www.boxtops4education.com/)
- Jan. 22 Nottingham's Double Down team of seniors, Lauren Ashby, Nick Lozoponi and Austin Shaughnessy, competed against the CNY Homeschoolers. The competition aired on January 15th on WCNY. Congratulations to the Nottingham seniors.
- Jan. 22 The Post-Standard: "CNY's 50 Best High School Football Players": More than a dozen current and former area coaches and sports writers were consulted. "We pored over record books, all-state teams and Hall of Fame resumés." Not only high school performance was recognized, but also college and, in many cases, pro football careers. Among the 50 chosen were three from Nottingham: Keith Moody ('71), Doug Swift ('66) and Dorsey Levens ('89).
- Jan. 23 This week's Student Scholar Athlete is Michael'a Denson, a junior and member of the Nottingham Bulldogs Cheerleading Squad. In her spare time she volunteers at Loretto and would like to attend either UCLA or Michigan State to study veterinary science after graduation. Last marking period she had an 89 grade point average.

REMINDER: So that we can keep current, please return last page with updated email address and if you wish Check the box in order to receive your "Connection" via email. THX

SCSD - "News from the Schools", December 2016 & January 2017

SCSD Students Compete in Longest-Running NYS Vex Robotics Tournament: More than 100 students from Corcoran, Nottingham, Fowler/PSLA and H.W. Smith, as well as surrounding districts, took part in the 9th annual SCSD Vex Robotics Competition, the longest running Vex competition in the state!

SCSD Students Attend NSBE Regional Conference: Henninger, ITC, Nottingham and PSLA at Fowler students recently attended a National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) Regional Conference in Niagara Falls, where they attended workshops and competed in regional competitions. These competitions included Vex Robotics, Bridge Building and T-Mal (math). The Vex competition was designed for teams of two. Austin Pilon (ITC) and Amara Donzo (Nottingham) won first place and Tydre Bell and Najib Daoud (both of Nottingham) took second. In the math competition (T-Mal), the first place team was Nasheet Usman, Bridget Kumah and Jacinda Jackson (Nottingham), Quintin Shanes (ITC) and Chantay Morales (PSLA). The second place team was Myles Cherebin, Johnny Nguyen (both of Nottingham), Imari Gary (P-Tech) and Alex Phan (ITC). In the Bridge Building competition, Nate Hunter (ITC), Jordan Hart (Nottingham) and Makel and Marquice Miller (Henninger) took second place.

SCSD Students Participate in Syracuse Youth Orchestra Concert: The Syracuse Youth Orchestra and the Syracuse Youth String Orchestra recently held their Fall Concert at West Genesee High School. Together, the SYO and SYSO have 186 students that participate from across Central New York, and four are from the SCSD. Congratulations to Ryan Skidmore, Yier Jin and Hanna Tobin (violin, Nottingham) and to Cecilia Joslyn (French horn, Corcoran).

ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT: Quindell Williams, Nottingham ('03). College: OCC and SUNY Oswego, majoring in Mass Media and Broadcast Journalism. Career Path: He is currently a Multimedia Journalist/Photographer (MMJ) at NBC3/CBS5/CW6 (CNY Central). As a student at OCC he had the ability to do freelance work with ESPN, Time Warner and CBS Sports. He started his career with CNY Central as a master control operator in 2011 and transitioned to MMJ shortly after. He has been with the station for five years.

On Point for College Makes Higher Education a Reality: Dakir Thompson, Nottingham ('12), at one point said: "I didn't believe that black people went to college." A cousin of his forced him to sign up for "On Point for College"; consequently, he earned an Associates Degree in Applied Science from Morrisville and he is now studying Computer Science with a minor in Biology at LeMoyne College. Eventually he would like to work in data science or engineering.

Eventually he would like to work in data science or engineering. Dakir is the first in his family to graduate from high school. He indicates that there were some challenges, but On Point was there every step of the way, even giving him dorm supplies. His advice to current high school students is "Don't let your current situation or circumstances fill you with self doubt."

SCSD Educational Foundation Announces 2016-17 Grant Recipients: The SCSD Educational Foundation has announced the recipients of more than $53,000 in grant funding for the 2016-17 school year. Thanks to the funding, 20 projects in 14 SCSD schools will now be possible, exposing students to unique activities in science, business, the arts and more. Of the projects funded this year, one was a wind tunnel project at Nottingham to help Environmental Science, National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) and Career and Technical Education (CTE) students get a true voltage reading of a wind turbine's output.

- Jan. 28 Nottingham senior Mikayla (Micah) Pilan's mask is one of the 16 mask entries chosen to be featured in Syracuse Opera's "Rigoletto". The opera, which features men behaving badly while wearing masks, will take place on February 10th and 12th at the Crouse-Hinds Theater. Pilon states: "My mask was inspired by a touch of symbolism, the rose being a darker red for a bit of dark love and the butterfly is rebirth or beauty. It was a hand-sketched design that I then printed in acrylics." The Pilan family is grateful for the support of the Nottingham community.
- Jan. 29 Former Nottingham basketball coach Tony Smarrelli was inducted into the Basketball Coaches Association of New York Hall of Fame on Sunday morning in Glens Falls.
- Jan. 31 Five high school football players were recognized as Scholar Athletes at the Central New York Chapter of the National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Dinner. Among the five was Nottingham's Mikel Combs, Jr. Each of the athletes received a $500 scholarship award.
- Feb. 1 Nottingham students Carthell Flowers, Jevon Jones and Jaleel Berry, who took part in signing day, announced that they will be playing football next year at Eastern Michigan University, Villanova University and Central Connecticut State University respectively. Signing day is when primarily football and soccer players sign on to formally commit themselves to playing athletics in college the following year.

- Feb. 1 The Post-Standard Sports section, "Bulldogs Sign Letters, Look Ahead" by Donnie Webb: "Jevon Jones and Carthell Flowers stood before a packed room at Nottingham on Wednesday, February 1st, in their dress sports coats and bow-ties and thanked everyone they could think of. After signing national letters-of-intent to play college football, coach Fred Wheeler pointed out to the underclassmen sitting in the room that those signatures are worth thousands of dollars in academic scholarship to two players who are not only accomplished on the field, but also in the classroom. Jones, a quarterback, was recruited as a free safety in Villanova. Wheeler said Jones might report as an athlete, leaving open options to play quarterback or even receiver. Jones plans to study engineering. Flowers, a running back, was recruited as a defensive back at Eastern Michigan, which plays in the Football Bowl subdivision (Division I)."
- Feb. 27 Over break our Nottingham VEX Teams competed in the school district sponsored Northern New York State VEX Championship. This event is the qualifier to the World Championships, which will be held in Kentucky in April. Our team this year has not yet qualified, but sits in good position to qualify by placing second at the Northern New York State Championships in the Robot Skills Challenge category. In New York there is a Northern and Southern State Championship; the Southern will be held on March 4th and will determine the final spots for Worlds including the Skills Challenge winners. We will know by March 6th if our team made it. In the meantime here is how we did:
- Feb. 2 Jaime Alicea, Interim Superintendent of the SCSD, in a letter to the editor of the Syracuse Post-Standard today explained all the steps the district takes to support students who are affected by a traumatic event. He thanked "all of the Crisis Response Team members and all of the staff who step forward to help our children in the most unfortunate and tragic circumstances."
- Feb. 6 This week's Student Scholar Athlete is Nottingham senior Molly Bankert, who had a 98 grade point average during the last marking period. She's a high honor roll student and a member of both the indoor track team and the district's city lacrosse team. Molly plans to study history in college.
- Feb. 12 Nottingham senior Jevon Jones was honored with the Syracuse Crunch Award for Sportsmanship at the CNY Young and Amazing Awards which took place at the Civic Center on February 9th. Jevon is a varsity athlete in football, basketball and track. He is a leader on and off the field and will be attending Villanova University on a full athletic scholarship after graduation.
- Feb. 18 The Section III boys state swim meet qualifier was held Saturday at the Nottingham pool.

Team 5937A lost in the Finals Match of the Engineering Division, placing second overall in their division. Team members: Nasheett Usman, Tyrique Cundiff, and Fahim Rahman.

Team 5937B went 3-4 in the Technology Division, placing 23rd overall (This was the much tougher division!). Team members: Shukri Shareef, Rebecca Zathang (unable to attend the event).

Team 5937C, paired with Team A, also lost in the Finals Match of the Engineering Division, placing second overall in their division. Placed second overall in the Robot Skills Challenge. Team members: Nick Lozoponi, Aser Negash (unable to attend the event).

We congratulate these students for making it to the State Championship and trying their hardest. "Thank you to everyone who helped us this season and allowed the students extra time to work on their robots!" - Bryan English / PLTW Technology Education / Nottingham High School.

- Mar. 1 Syracuse University News Campus & Community section: "Refugee High School Students to Participate in 'We Are Syracuse' Event at School of Education March 1": The third annual "We Are Syracuse" event will be hosted on the Syracuse University campus. Refugee students from Nottingham High School will come to share their stories at this gallery-style event that's dedicated to celebrating their cultures and promoting tolerance." Students from Nepal, Uganda, Myanmar, Iraq, Congo and Somalia will tell of their experiences through written and spoken narratives, small-group PowerPoint presentations and conversations over food and artwork. The event is a collaboration between Nottingham's English as a New Language teacher Lauren Cirulli and faculty in the S.U. School of Education's Teaching English Language Learners (TELL) program. Associate Professor Zaline Roy-Campbell, coordinator of the TELL program, says "We Are Syracuse' offers a way for the community to better understand the plight of our immigrant and refugee population in Syracuse." According to Cirulli, English language learners make up about 30% of the approximately 1200 students enrolled at Nottingham. She indicates that the students are extremely resilient. "I have to say that Nottingham is an extremely welcoming place, and students quickly find activities to join and friends to hang out with, and their culture is appreciated here", Cirulli says. For additional information about "We Are Syracuse" contact Rov-Campbell at zmrovcam@svr.edu.
- Mar. 3 FANS Friends of the Arts at Nottingham High School: Nottingham is very fortunate to be able to bring professional string musicians to NHS this year through a grant program. This "String Mentoring Program at Nottingham High School" is sponsored by the Society for New Music with support from the Central New York Community Foundation, part of SNM's Billie Burdick composers in the Syracuse City Schools project. The purpose of the grant is to bring professional string players to school to teach group lessons and to coach ensemble groups. Ultimately, the staff would like to have its own Nottingham string orchestra and to start the program during the next 1-2 weeks. The current proposal is to offer group lessons/sessions both during and after school hours to accommodate students' schedules.
- Mar. 3 Nottingham alum Joe Driscoll and Sekou Kouyate won a "SAMMY" (Syracuse Area Music Award) as Best Jam Band for "Monistic Theory".
- Mar. 6 On February 11th Nottingham had two teams compete in the Onondaga Math Meet. One of the teams, Team Dys(f(x)), placed 8th out of 70 teams at the meet. The members of this team were Austin Shaughnessy, Sandy Yang, Nick Lozopony, Vizma Leimanis, Trevor Giardine, Lauren Ashby, Truong Ho and Fahim Rahman. Senior Austin Shaughnessy placed in the top 30 students for the entire county and was selected to be on the Onondaga County Team that will compete in New York City on April 1st at Stuyvesant High School. Congratulations to Austin and all of the participants on a competitive year.
- May 3 Nottingham's Introduction to Engineering Design class period 10, and their teacher Jim McGinty, celebrated Earth Day by taking apart a broken picnic table and building a new one.
- May 5 Facebook, The Syracuse City School District: Nottingham senior Vizma Leimanis and two Henninger High School students were recently named winners of the 2017 Youth Peace Award. This award is given annually by the Nuclear Free World Committee of SPC, (formerly Peace Action CNY of the Syracuse Peace Council) to high school students who have shown a devotion to peace, justice and protecting the environment. Vizma was recognized for her environmental advocacy (anti-fracking, anti-nuclear) work while the Henninger students were recognized for their efforts with the "Two Miles is Too Far" campaign. All three students have participated in the Seeds of Peace program.

Nottingham in the News

Mar. 8 Nottingham's Meadowbrook Harlequins will perform the play "Mary Poppins" as their spring musical March 10th - 12th at the school's Len Fonte Theater. The play is based on Walt Disney's favorite film and the book by P.L. Travers. On the Fly Productions has been contracted for aerial elements of the show. The adults involved are director Bill Ralbovsky, music director Alicia Bronzetti, choreographer Deb Holden and pit band conductor Eveny Parker. Among others, the cast includes Emily Carello as Mary Poppins, Lucas Neville as Bert, Michael Edmonds as George Banks, Bianca Ortiz as Winnfred Banks and Nyasa Williams as Jane Banks. Featured dancers are Priscilla Fudesco, Rachel Hidek, Emily Houck, Vizma Leimanis, Cammie Nash and Levonn Owens.

Mar. 12 Jaime Alicea, who served as interim superintendent of the Syracuse City Schools for seven months, was named as Superintendent of the Syracuse City School District. His appointment was unanimous by the school board. He and Board President Derrick Dorsey said a big part of Alicea's role will be to build bridges between the community, parents, students and district staff and leadership. On March 9th about 500 people were recognized for their contributions as volunteers in Syracuse schools at an annual luncheon at the LeMoyne College Campus Center, where Alicea greeted volunteers and community members. During his 34 years with Syracuse schools Alicea has served as a kindergarten teaching assistant all the way to CEO in charge of health services, facilities, food, security and transportation, among other titles.

SCSD Arts Student, Staff Achieve Musical Honors: Nottingham student Joe Vanable participated in the All-State Vocal Jazz Ensemble at the NYSSMA conference at the Eastman Theatre in Rochester, NY. He auditioned for this with a level 6 All-State solo back in May and prepared with his teacher Alicia Bronzetti for the performance since September.

Visual Arts Students Receive Scholastic Art Awards: Several SCSD high school students were recognized in this year's Scholastic Arts Awards. In the Digital Art category Nottingham students Thy Ly ("Harmony"), Maia Knittel ("Flower Child") and David Arcaro ("Galaxy Hair") received Honorable Mentions, while Thy Ly also received a Silver Key for his work, "Inquisitor", and Maia Knittel also received a Gold Key for her work, "Spooky Kids". Hannah Cofer received several Honorable Mentions for Mixed Media and Drawing and Illustration submissions and was also recognized with two Silver Key awards for her Art Portfolio submissions, "Women" and "Outside". Stephanie Mooney received a Gold Key for her Fashion submission "Wrapped in Wonder", as well as a Silver Key for her Sculpture work, "Overgrown Dreams". Natalie (Ryan) Skidmore received Honorable Mentions for the Painting and Digital Art submissions "Boston Pigeons" and "Angel Concept".

SCSD Overall June Graduation Rate Exceeds 60%! For the first time in 10 years overall June graduation rate exceeded 60%. On top of that, five high schools each saw improvements in their individual graduation rates. 2016 June Graduation Rates: Corcoran 64%, Fowler 44%, Henninger 61%, ITC 89%, Nottingham 66%.

Nottingham Students Host Fundraiser for Make-A-Wish Foundation: Led by ENL teacher Lauren Cirulli and Nottingham soccer teams, students raised $350 in support of soccer coach Andy Hazeltine's son Ocasio who has brain cancer. They sold long-sleeved blue t-shirts that had a bulldog and soccer ball on the front and a grey ribbon for brain cancer awareness on the left sleeve.

Nottingham Students Raise Trout in the Classroom: Under a grant funded by the SCSD Educational Foundation, Natural Resources students led by teacher Jaime Rodriguez are raising trout in their class as part of a stream habitat study and to help them learn about ecosystem connectivity. The Rome Fish Hatchery provided the Brown Trout eggs, which will be released in Butternut Creek in May. By that time, students will have learned a lot about conservation efforts at the state level to help the local species. "We studied their anatomy and their life cycle," classmate Mariam Almohamad explained, "and we learned how to test the water so we can keep their environment stable." Sophomore Abrahim Kenneh said, "It's been fun! I like that it's hands -on...that we're not just sitting at our desks." This is one of 20 projects funded by the SCSD Educational Foundation in 14 schools this year, totaling $53,000.

- Mar. 23 Nottingham alum Camille Paglia ('64) has published a new book, an essay collection, entitled "Free Women, Free Men Sex, Gender, Feminism". An article about her appeared in today's New York Times Book Review section, "Books of the Times" by Dwight Garner, entitled "From Camille Paglia, 'Free Women, Free Men' and No Sacred Cows". Paglia is an American academic and social critic as well as author of several best selling books. She is a graduate of Harper College at Binghamton University and did her doctoral dissertation at Yale where her mentor was Harold Bloom. She has been a professor at the University of the Arts in Philadelphia since 1984.
- Apr. 3 The Student Scholar Athlete of the Week, Nyazhia Rhodes, a Nottingham junior with a current GPA of 3.4, enjoys extending her math skills by taking a pre-calculus course at Onondaga Community College. During her high school years she has run both indoor and outdoor track, as well as having cheered for football. She is currently part of the Track and Field Team and is ready for the 2017 spring season in hopes of going to the State-Wide Track Meet.
- Apr. 5 The Syracuse City School District: For the past 2 weeks the City of Syracuse has enjoyed sell-out performances of the musical "Wicked" at the Landmark Theater. During the run, a group of SCSD students got a special view of the show when a cast member gave a Musical Theatre Audition Workshop at Nottingham. Lauren Haughton, a 2004 S.U. graduate, led the group in the dance combination actually used in "Wicked". She also worked with students on songs they had chosen, addressing both vocal and dramatic elements of their performance. The workshop was organized by SCSD music teacher Frederick Willard, who also provided piano accompaniment for the event. Nottingham choral teacher Alicia Bronzett was the host.

Nottingham Student Performs Random Act of Kindness:

Sophomore Ethan Ludlow recently purchased pizzas and wings for the school's community-based special education class, using his earnings from a part-time job to make the purchase. Ludlow explained that he observed one of the special ed students being picked on and wanted to do something to help. Nottingham teacher Edye Bonanni added, "The students were very thankful and appreciative of his kindness. He has shown great respect for our kids."

SCSD Students Attend National SDBE Convention: Students from Nottingham and other city schools recently attended the National Society of Black Engineers 43rd Annual Convention in Kansas City, MO. There they competed with more than 1,500 students in science, math and engineering challenges.

Nottingham Students Practice Language Skills, Learn to Be Cultural Ambassadors: With part of a grant funded by the SCSD Education Foundation, Nottingham Spanish teacher Lisa Crowell formed the program with the intention of bringing together English as a New Language (ENL) students and native English speakers. Once a week after school her classroom fills with the sound of French and Spanish as the Orange and Blue Ambassadors Language Exchange group meets. Students practice their conversational language skills by discussing topics such as travel, news, etc. in a language they are wanting to learn. With Ms. Crowell and French teacher Leonard Kuci helping prompt the students or assisting when they get stuck, meetings take place almost entirely in languages other than English. Junior Melanie Anaya, a native Spanish speaker, said the club has been a good way to develop her third language. "It's helped me better communicate with people in French, which is what I'm trying to learn." "In class, they're usually worried about grammar and proper language use," Mr. Kuci added. "Here, there's nothing to worry about - it's all for fun!" Ms. Crowell explained the group's benefits: "It gives our foreign language speakers real experience, and we're tapping into the resources we have right here in our school."

May 22 Nottingham librarian Maureen Kendrick Page was selected by the Central New York School Librarians group as a Soaring Through Excellence Super Librarian. Ms. Page was selected for her energy, passion and leadership. The selection of an award winner is determined by an independent committee and approved by the presidents of the CNYSL.

May 22 Nottingham's Natural Resources students recently went to Ryder Park in Dewitt to release trout they raised in class into Butternut Creek. They also participated in catch-and-release fishing, a nature walk to identify wildlife and plants, a macro invertebrate search and compass activity. The group also traveled to Carpenter's Brook Fish Hatchery to learn how a hatchery operates and how fish are raised from eggs to adults.

June 15 The Post Standard, Neighbors section: High School Graduation 2017, Nottingham High School: This year's valedictorian, Lauren Ashby, will be attending Sarah Lawrence College where she plans to study Public Policy, among other things, and to play soccer. Although her plans are not set in stone, she'd like to pursue a career in education policy. Her experiences at Nottingham included all-city Varsity soccer, Seeds of Peace, Superintendent's Student Cabinet, Community-wide Dialogue and musical theater, which she shared with some of her best friends. She hopes to accomplish something that will make a positive difference in the world during her lifetime. Her advice to other students as they continue their studies: "Compete with yourself, not those around you. You can fulfill your ambitions while still having friends...push yourself to do your best and don't worry about what others are doing!"

Molly Bankert, this year's salutatorian, will be attending Syracuse University and hopes to become a historian or museum curator. At Nottingham she has participated in Varsity lacrosse, indoor track, student government, Mock Trial, and Community-wide Dialogue. She has enjoyed being part of a diverse community and has been inspired by friends, family and teachers. She hopes to work to find ways to eliminate prejudice and improve our country.

June 17 "Live on Bridge Street" Salutes 2017 CNY Valedictorians: The program featured 13 Central New York area high school valedictorians, including Nottingham's Lauren Ashby. They all shared their thoughts on a variety of topics, including safety and security. Another topic of discussion was social media usage. While all agree that social media has a lot of potential for positive change, many describe it as a "double-edged sword". Other topics included Greek life, the college admission process, and what the grads will miss most about high school.

June 22 syracuse.com: Senior Jaleel Berry signed a national letter-of-intent to play football at Boston College. He will report to campus Sunday, following Nottingham's graduation on Saturday. He will be playing defensive tackle for the Eagles. Paul Pasqualoni, former head coach at Syracuse University, will be his position coach. "It was like a dream come true", Berry said.

June 23 Moikgantsi Kgama, a graduate of Nottingham and Syracuse University, founded ImageNation Cinema Foundation, headquartered in Harlem. ImageNation will present two screenings of an independent film, "Chapter & Verse", on Saturday at the Redhouse Arts Center in Syracuse. This will be the first in a quarterly film series called "Cocktails & Cinema" that highlights the global black experience.

June 27 syracuse.com: The McMahon/Ryan Child Advocacy Center joined with the Social Media Breakfast Syracuse at Nottingham High School where they held an important discussion about how parents can help keep kids safe on the Internet.

June 28 FANS-Friends of the Arts at Nottingham High School: The Senior Vocal Ensemble performed "For Good" at the Nottingham commencement on June 24th. The lyrics are: "...You'll be with me; Like a handprint on my heart; And now whatever way our stories end; I know you have re-written mine; By being my friend..."

July 12 The Jewish Federation of Central New York Community Happenings Bulletin: Chuck Harris, a Syracuse native and Nottingham alum ('59), will hold a presentation of his novel, "Mr. Chen's Sweet and Sour" on July 16, 2017 at the Jewish Community Center of Syracuse.

July 28 Greg Jones, a 1988 Nottingham graduate, will step down as Nottingham's boys varsity basketball coach and will be replaced by Derek Jackson. Jackson, a former Corcoran star, coached the boys basketball team at Onondaga Central the last five seasons. Jones, who coached two decades at Nottingham, will remain as the school's Dean of Students.

August & September 2017 Good News - Syracuse City School District:

CNY STEM Camp Helps Girls Become #SCSDCareerReady: For one week this summer a group of young women gathered in the Science Center at LeMoyne College. They learned about particulates, soldering, drones and aerodynamics; attempted coding, etc. One of the objectives of the CNY STEM Summer Camp for Young Women, powered by AT&T, was to expose young women to the possibilities available to them in the fields of science, technology, engineering and math. Nottingham freshman Jayla Keeton said: "I feel like I'm always on the computer and using technology, so by coming to this camp, I was able to learn some new skills!" SCSD students attended the camp along with young women from ten other local school districts.

All SCSD students are invited to enjoy free breakfast, lunch and snack at school each day. Log onto the Food & Nutrition Services website for the latest menus as well as guidance on how to handle food allergies, dietary restrictions and more. For more information: syracusecityschools.com/food!

- Aug. 4 D & C Democrat & Chronicle part of the USA Today network, article by Jeff Spevak: Rochester art icon Nan Miller is retiring and closing her gallery. Miller and her husband, Howard Miller, are both '64 Nottingham graduates. Nan was raised in Syracuse and started out her career in New York City before settling in Rochester. For over 45 years, Miller has built her business into what was certainly the most significant gallery in Rochester, perhaps in Western New York. Over the years she had evolved into a player on the international scene, one who also had a hand in boosting careers. Miller states, "My priorities have changed", citing some of the personal reasons for closing the gallery. She wants to travel, enjoy grandchildren, tend to her extensive gardens, etc.: "I don't want to be tied to a brick-and-mortar gallery. It's been a great adventure. I'm living my dream."
- Aug. 20 Nottingham alumna Alison Dupree ('88) will be inducted into the 2017 Urban Sports Hall of Fame of Syracuse NY for track. The ceremony is scheduled for November 18th at Huntington School.
- Sep. 18 Scholar Athlete of the Week: Nottingham senior Nyazhia Rhodes has a 3.4 GPA. She runs indoor and outdoor track and was a participant in the state qualifiers meet. - Nov. 8 2016 Nottingham Graduate Wins National Championship: Abshir Yerow ('16) is named Northeast Region Athlete of the Year, First Team All American and winner of the 2017 National Championship Cross Country in the 5-mile race at Holyoke Community College in Westfield, Massachusetts. After graduating from Nottingham, his plan was to play soccer at OCC. As he was preparing for the season, he broke his hand while playing in a summer league. He took a friend's advice to run cross country just to stay in shape. On November 4, 2017, one day after being named Northeast Region Athlete of the Year and a First Team All-American, Yerow won the national championship in the 5-mile race. His winning time of 26:24.8 was his personal best, beating his nearest competitor by just 1.1 seconds. Yerow is a native of Kenya, arriving in the U.S. along with his parents and older brother in 2009. He will earn his degree in Criminal Justice from Holyoke in May 2018.

November/December 2017 Central New York Magazine - Onondaga Historical Association's History page: William Lundigan, a film and TV actor from Syracuse who charmed audiences in more than 125 films and three TV series, was a graduate of Nottingham High School ('31). He was born in 1914 and received his first acting role in a children's radio show at age 10 at radio station WFBL. While at Nottingham he produced three other shows for WFBL. After graduating from Syracuse University, Lundigan signed a contract with Universal Pictures in 1937. His first film, "Dodge City", starred Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland. His acting career was put on hold during World War II, when he became a combat filmmaker, producing documentaries on the battles of Peleliu and Okinawa. After the war he signed a contract with 20th Century Fox and starred in movies with such stars as Marilyn Monroe and Susan Hayward. In the 1950's he hosted two television series and starred in "Men Into Space", as astronaut Col. Edward McCauley. Lundigan continued to act into the early 1970's. He died in California in 1975.

- Nov. 22 Senior All-County Audition Results: Some great news courtesy of our band/orchestra teacher, Mr. Eric Petit-McClure: Senior Eve Llanos placed 7th overall out of at least 27 flutists and will be 3rd chair in the All-County Band! Junior Curran Shannon placed 5th overall out of at least 5 tenor saxophonists. He will not be in the band as they selected only the top 3 performers. As many of you probably know, hundreds of students audition from around the county and our students are up against some very tough competition in a highly inequitable system.
- Nov. 27 The Post Standard, Empire section, Calendar: The Syracuse Peace Council's Plowshares Crafts Fair and Peace Festival will be held on Saturday, December 2, 2017 at Nottingham.
